

Opportunity to take part in research with the Office for National Statistics

We are looking for volunteers to take part in a one-off research session to provide feedback and help shape the design of online content. You do not have to be an expert in designing online content to give your views and we would be grateful to hear them.

This feedback will be given in an interview lasting approximately 60 minutes, which will take place remotely, so you will need to have access to a laptop and an internet connection. Access to a headset is also desirable but not essential. Those taking part will receive £40 as a thank you.

We need people who are aged 16 or over and who have dyslexia. Those who are receiving (or have received) support and guidance for dyslexia and co-occurring specific learning differences are also invited to contact us.

Your personal information will be treated as confidential as directed by the Code of Practice for Statistics and will not be shared with any third parties. Feedback you provide will be used to develop questions for official surveys. The information you provide will not identify you or anyone in your household.

Please contact us if you or any one you know would be interested in taking part via:

- Email Address: takepart@ons.gov.uk

Many thanks,
Chris Andrews and Katie Silk (Researchers)
